No regret...collapsing from diabetes. the drama cd is really cute! it's different than the one that comes with the toranoana physical edition of the game, so there sadly aren't any translations for that with this, BUT this is still well worth the money. there's three tracks, ranging from 7 minutes to 20 minutes long. you're provided with wav files of all three, as well as a translated script so that you can read along.

personally i loved the second track the best! it went deeper into their day at the park at the beginning of the game.

i'd really only recommend listening to this once you've finished the game itself, but it's really really good!!. the drama cd is really cute! it's different than the one that comes with the toranoana physical edition of the game, so there sadly aren't any translations for that with this, BUT this is still well worth the money. there's three tracks, ranging from 7 minutes to 20 minutes long. you're provided with wav files of all three, as well as a translated script so that you can read along.
